Class History

One day while playing records I came across my album of my Bristol High School Days. As I listened to "Down Memory Lane" my thoughts turned dreamily to our good old school days at B. H. S. and our class of "54".

In the mood "I'm Sitting on Top of the World" we 42 members started our Freshmen year. The Seniors didn't have the annual initiation program, but we were treated with a roller skating party which we returned in the spring. Listening to the "Mexican Hat Dance" reminds me of our Chili Supper to raise money for a new stage curtain. We also sponsored a Cake Raffle. Our officers, Catherine Derby, President, Earl Paulson, Secretary, and Max Godshalk, Treasurer, should be given credit for a most successful year.

In "51-52" forty-two sophomores were led by President, Arnold Wilhelmson, Vice President, Fred Bloom, Secretary, Barbara Conover, and Treasurer, Clare Trout. When we were through selling $1629.00 worth of magazine subscriptions, "We're in the Money" rang through the halls of B. H. S. With the help of Mr. Yoder and Miss Van Harlington, we selected Navy blue and gold for our sophomore sweaters and class colors.

In the spring, we gave a bar-be-cue supper to help buy a stage curtain.

In September of "52-53" thirty-five Juniors came back to "The Little Red School House". To the theme "There's no business like show business" we produced a talent show with traditional King and Queen.

Our officers were President, Fred Bloom, Vice President, Gerald Long, Secretary, Carol Clarke, and Treasurer, Barbara Conover.

In early January we received our class rings which we had ordered in the fall. The dramatic elements of our class blossomed in the spring in "Don't Take My Penny", our dramatic production.

On the night of the "Blue Moon", we gave our prom at the Hotel Elkhart, ending our successful activities for the year, which were directed by Mrs. Stark and Mrs. Whiteman, our sponsors.

"With a Song in Our Hearts" we came back as Seniors choosing Fred Bloom, President, Catherine Derby, Vice President, Ronnie Teall, Secretary, and Barbara Conover, Treasurer.

With the air of "Keep It Gay" we began our many activities by chartering a bus to the Indiana State Fair. We had our pictures taken by "Sutula Studio". We were singing "I Love You a Bushel and a Peck" as we picked apples in the Bristol Orchards.

Although we hadn't been initiated, we initiated the Freshmen on October 1.

We gave our regards to Broadway as the final curtain came down on "Seventeen is Terrific", which Mrs. Cripe and Mr. Thompson, our sponsors directed.

After "Sitting in the Sun Counting our Money" we embarked in May on our class trip. On May 21, 1954, we seniors put on our caps and gowns and bravely marched to "Pomp and Circumstance" for that most coveted of all-our diploma.

Class Will

I Franklin Berky will my oratory ability to Sally Williams in hopes that she can increase her speed and vocabulary!
I Clifford Black will my ability to get away with anything in Davy's study hall to Larry Miller, in hopes he can do as well!
I Fred William Bloom will my athletic abilities to my brother Ed in hopes he improves greatly over them.
I Loanne Bloss, will my ability to eat whatever and whenever I please without gaining weight to Joyce Brown. I suggest you try RDX.
I Marjorie Ann Campbell will my even temper to Gary Weatherwax.
I Carol Anne Clarke will my typing ability to Gary Weatherwax in hopes he can make 20 words a minute.
I Donald Cloud will to Bill Mills all the junk in my locker for his classes senior scrap drive.
I Barbara Lenore Conover will my ability to go with the same boy for two years to Susan Strintz.
I Catherine Rebecca Derby will my feminine appearance to Sharon Bontrager in hopes that someday she'll catch a man.
I Bruce Erlandson will my superior ability to get out of work in shop class to Lowell Weaver.
I Ann Marie Gardner will my one gained year of High School to Ronnie Wedge in hopes he can do more with it than I would have.
I Max Alan Godshalk will my shoes to Harold Jacobs.
I Helen Marie Green will my Height to Alan Hess in hopes he can use it on a future basketball team.
I Peggy Jean Hall will my height to Nancy Amstein.
I Rex David Hall will my ability to draw pictures and listen to Davy at the same time to Richard Enos may he use it well.
I Mary Louisa Lawrence will my ability to create new words on the typewriter to next years beginning class.
I Gerald Wayne Long will my mathematical ability to Jim Conover.
I Elizabeth Ann Miller will my hysterical laugh to anyone who is man enough to handle it.
I Patrick Joseph Moran will all the 7th and 8th grade girls to Bill Stearley.
I Robert Adair Morrison will my ability to get out of school first period to anyone man enough to work in the lunch room.
We Gailyn E. North and Jane E. Bostian will the fun we've had together in High School to Susan Strintz and Sharon Rowe.
I Charles Phillips will my bashfulness to Ed Bloom.
I Larry J. Raber will anything I've got that's worth anything to anyone that thinks they can use it.
I Mona Lu Reynolds will my ability to get straight A's in conduct and yet talk all the time to Bill Mills (Just look innocent Bill).
I Cecil Schneider will my chair in Davy's Physics class to Eddie Bloom in hopes that he can get along with Mr. Yoder better than I did.
I Diana June Secor will my $25 clarinet to Bob Cormican in hopes he will make good use of it.
I Russel LaVern Stutsman will my chevrolet to the Alexander's.
I Ronald B. Teall will my ability to carry a tune to Dennis C. Ziegler in hopes he can someday discard the bucket.
I Clare Trout will my flashing smile to Dick Reamer.
I Frank Walther will my height to Robert Frey in hopes he can use it to Play basketball.
I Cora Sue Weaver will my quietness to Jadine McKibben in hopes she will make good use of it.
I Arnold Albin Wilhelmson will my 5' 7" height and size 11 1/2 shoe to Patrick Wedge.
I Walter Zakrzewski will my ability to get straight A's in all my subjects but miss the honor roll because of C in conduct to Pat Miller.

Class Prophecy

It had been ten years since I'd been back to my home town of Bristol, so when my husband found time to take two weeks vacation last summer we decided to go back to see the town and all of our former classmates.

Upon arriving, the airport manager, who was none other than Don Cloud, told us that Bristol had grown to a population of 50,000 and it might be rather hard for us to find our way around.

But we did discover that Diana Secor was to give a piano recital that evening at the Opera House. Upon talking to her before the recital we learned that Ronald Teall was the composer of most of her music. We also learned that a dramatic play starring Gailyn North was to be presented the following evening.

The next day I decided that I could use a new hair-set and the operator of the town's most exclusive beauty salon turned out to be Helen Green.

Later that day we visited the newly completed grade school, high school, and the field house. While we were there we talked to the principal, Walter Zakrzewski, who informed us that he had revised the school system. He took us on a tour of the grade school and who should we meet but Peggy Hall, who was teaching the first grade. Further touring brought us face to face with the third-grade teacher, Elizabeth Miller.

We completed our tour by going through the new field house, which seats 10,000. While we were there we talked to Max Godshalk, the head coach, about the state tourney winning team that he had produced this last season.

We stayed that night in a spacious hotel, owned and operated by the city's shrewdest businessmen, Russell Stutsman and Cecil Schneider.

The next day we visited Mayor Patrick Moran's office. We were greeted by his private secretary, Cora Weaver. Cora told us that Pat would be able to talk with us as soon as he was through with his meeting with the city's prosecuting Attorney, Clifford Black.

During our visit Pat told us that the city's new chief of police was none other than Bob Morrison. He also told us that if we were able to get out of town for a drive, we should be sure to stop at Mona Lu's Haven for Homeless Children operated by Mone Reynolds.

Mayor Moran also took us on a tour of the city hospital, whose director we found to be Bruce Erlanson. He joined us on our tour, which brought us face to face with the hospital's most prominent doctor, Ann Gardner, and her two best surgical nurses, Carol Clarke and Mary Lawrence.

After the tour through the hospital, Mayor Moran took us to the new Dupont factory, where we met Gerald Long, the president, who conducted us on a tour through the plant.

That afternoon after our tour, I went shopping and wound up in Loanne Bloss's exclusive dress shoppe. Loanne informed us that Catherine Derby is the designer of her beautiful dresses and formals. While on my shopping spree, I stopped into the town's best men's shop, and who should be its manager but Arnold Wilhelmson.

Our vacation was fast coming to an end and we decided to spend a few of the last days outside the hustle and bustle of the city.

The county's agriculture agent, Franklin Berkey, accompanied us on our visit to some of the area's largest farms. Our first stop was at the Raber Farm, where we chatted with Larry for some time concerning his success in farming. He in turn told us to be sure to stop at Bloom's Chicken Farm, which were located just down the road a short distance. Fred, too, assured us that he had been quite successful.

As we drove on we came upon a large dairy farm, which Franklin informed us was owned by Clare Trout and his charming wife, the former Jane Boston.

We were also anxious to see Frank Walther and Charles Phillips, but we were told that both boys owned large cattle ranches out west.

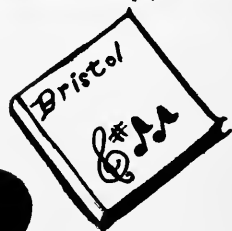

On our last day in Bristol we visited the office of the city paper to renew our paper subscription and while we were there we talked with Editor Rex Hall and his senior artist, Marjorie Campbell, who was soon to leave him to present an art exhibition in New York.

We left Bristol that evening, happy that we had been able to see most of our former classmates and talk with them concerning their success.
